

ASSOCIATION FOR THE STUDY OF THE CUBAN ECONOMY

The Association for the Study of the Cuban Economy (ASCE) is a non-political, non-partisan, professional association whose main objectives are to promote interest in the study of the Cuban economy in its broadest sense, and to encourage economic scholarship by Cuban Americans and other persons in furtherance of ASCE's purposes. Of special interest to ASCE is the study of economic and business development issues, legal reform, and social and environmental problems associated with the transition of Cuba to a free-market democracy. Membership is open to all scholars, teachers, students, institutions and other professional individuals interested in the study of the Cuban economy and society.

ASCE was incorporated in the State of Maryland, U.S.A., on August 7, 1990. ASCE is a non-profit corporation registered as such with the Internal Revenue Service of the United States of America. Donations and gifts are deductible for tax purposes as established under Section 509(a)(2) of the Internal Revenue Code. ASCE is affiliated with the American Economic Association and the Allied Social Science Associations.
